

Ann Arbor Smiles Dental Group Text & Email Messaging Consent

Receiving Email & Text Messages

Our practice, and our respective contractors on our behalf, may utilize the contact information you have provided to send you promotional messages about the services and products that we offer and appointment reminders, which could include protected health information and treatment details.

By providing your contact information, you request and give express written consent to receive communications through email and text messages to your cellular phone number through the use of an automated telephone dialing system. You understand that the emails and text messages you are agreeing to receive may include treatment reminders as well as promotional messages. The text messages are not encrypted (i.e. secure), which means it is possible that they could be accessed or viewed by others. Your consent means you agree to receive unsecure text messages and understand the risks. Message and data rates from your cellular carrier may apply for text messages.

You understand you may revoke your consent at any time, though that revocation will not apply to any emails or text messages made in reliance of this consent before your revocation. You can withdraw your consent at any time for receiving emails in the notifications settings or by clicking on the unsubscribe link located at the bottom of the emails. You may reply [STOP] to stop receiving text messages to your cellular phone. Your consent to receive communications by email or text message is not required in order to receive treatment or services offered by us, but it may enhance your experience. You further acknowledge that you may not consent on behalf of someone else and provide another person's cellular phone number. You represent that you have legal authority to provide consent.

You have the option of receiving communications from us via email and/or text messaging; or not at all.

Benefits of Text Messaging:

- Quickly confirm or reschedule your upcoming appointment
- Never miss an important message from our office
- Text with us about your appointment
